From my hole in the wall...

By Chucky Church Mouse

I am so-o-o excited! I discovered some great information from the intermouse intelligence network. A little mouse on the floor told me that some interesting things were discussed in Ruby and Preston May's 3rd and 4th grade Sunday School Class last Sunday. The class was studying "What the church is" and "How to be God's co-workers." I was not able to take my pre-lunch jog through the aisles of the sanctuary because Wade Meza, Kristina Kelso, and Rustyn Drake...along with the Mays were picking up papers and stuff after the service. What a great way to help out in the Kingdom of God. If you see them, tell them how much you appreciate it.

My intelligence source also told me that the 3rd and 4th graders are planning to help the greeters on Sunday Morning, January 24. Later, you may even hear about something that they are going to do to raise money to place new Bibles in the church. My intelligence source was nibbling on a donut from Lanny Lindsey's Sunday School Class at the time...so he missed the "rest of the story"...I'll see what I can find out.

I get so-o-o excited when I hear about people...young and old...who are looking for ways to show their love for Christ and for His church.

I'll see you next week...stay warm...Hey! Bring someone with you.

Chucky
