From my hole in the wall...

By Chucky Church
Mouse

I am so excited that next week we will have thanksgiving dinner. I promise that I won't climb the table. I'll wait for the dumpster...that is my favorite anyway. Hopefully this will get you into the Thanksgiving spirit a little early!

Over the river and through the marsh
To Grandma's house we go.

Little mice know the way... It just takes a day!
Cause Grandma Mouse has a spread for us
That we will feast on Thanksgiving Day!

She's shopped at all the church fellowships
The dumpsters and trash cans and such
To bring us a feast from ice cream to meat
That will fill our tummies so much,
That after the feast all action will cease
Till we sleep off the overstuffed lunch.

But when I awaken, feeling mellow and full,
I'll think to myself, "Is there more?"
Then I'll hear a small voice from deep in my heart
Saying, "Sure, and there's lots more in store."

It's not just the food, for folks in this town
Are hungry and searching around
For one crumb to find, Or just peace of mind
That's something I've already found.

"How can I help?" I think to myself.
Is there something that I can do
To help them to find the thing that would help
Their gnawing hunger to undo.

The thought comes to me, it gnaws like a flea
Look forward a month and you'll see
The answer to questions and hunger and thirst
Look to Christmas and then you will see.

The answer is Jesus, the King of all kings.
He gives the best food you can find,
The bread of life, living water, not strife
And best of all peace of mind.

So let's spend Thanksgiving, not taking, but giving,
With "thanks" our motivation,
Show Jesus to others And soon we will find
We, too, will find peace and elation!

...Happy Thanksgiving!
